Dear Parent/Carer

STEM Event

You may well read, or hear about our first STEM (science, technology, engineering and maths) event for year 7 that is taking place next week. I wanted to write to you to reassure you that although your child's group will not be participating on this occasion, there will be an opportunity for a similar event arranged for them later in the year.

Our STEM events last year were very popular and engaged the students in a variety of activities including: bringing the Cambridge Science centre exhibits to Ely College, building race cars and robots, solving problems associated with clean drinking water and building a house out of giant foam building blocks. These events present the opportunity for our students to gain experience in STEM subjects outside of the normal curriculum and helps them build on their teamwork, leadership and creativity skills.

Please contact me if you have any questions or concerns: scraven@elycollege.co.uk

Yours faithfully

Mr S Craven
Director of STEM
