

18th December 2020

Dear Parent/Carer and Student

Many of you will have seen today's announcement that the government is asking secondary schools to make some changes to their provision from the week commencing 4th January 2021. That guidance can be read in full here. I include details and instructions at the end of this letter with regard to testing and self-isolation in the event of a positive test in the next few days.

The government announced on Tuesday that it intends to offer all schools with secondary age pupils the chance to test pupils and staff in-school from the week commencing 4th January. The arrangements for setting up, staffing and administering these tests are not yet clear enough for me to share details of how this will operate with you. However, we will endeavour to implement that offer and provide the best possible opportunities for safe testing to take place.

Yesterday the government announced that they are directing secondary schools to phase the return to normal schooling in January. This is to allow, where possible, students to be tested during the week commencing 4th January; it is also intended to limit the risk of asymptomatic transmission of Covid-19 in school following the Christmas break.

Within Bishop Laney Sixth Form this means the following:

Wednesday 6th, Thursday 7th and Friday 8th January

The following classes will take place on site. Students are asked to arrive as close as possible to the start time of their lessons and leave site as soon as possible after their last lesson.

- All Year 13 / second year courses which conclude this year.
- Year 12 one-year courses as these also conclude this year:
 - Business Administration
 - Hairdressing
 - Beauty Therapy
 - Professional Cookery
 - Sport and Activity Leadership
- GCSE English Resit
- GCSE Maths Resit
- Year 12 students following other courses who are due to sit exams to attend for their exams only.

All other Year 12 students will not be expected in College. Their lessons will run remotely and live, following the usual timetable, over MS Teams. In most cases, these lessons will be run by their usual teacher. Most students and families are now familiar with this process, but guidance and support can be found on our website: <https://www.elycollege.com/remoteteaching>

The only exceptions to this are vulnerable students and those whose parents are critical workers. As was the case during the national lockdown from March-June, these children will be welcome to attend college. If they do attend school, they will be directed to engage in the remote learning programme offer following their usual timetable. The criteria used to identify vulnerable students and critical workers can be found here.

If you are in any doubt about whether your child is eligible to attend college, or if you are worried about how you or your child will access remote lessons, please contact the Bishop Laney Office office@bishoplaney.org and we will respond as soon as possible.

Fortunately, we had always planned for Monday 4th and Tuesday 5th January to be INSET (teacher-training) days. This limits the number of days students will be expected to switch to remote learning from home and gives us a little more time to try and arrange some of the testing arrangements the government want to see schools introduce.

We are clearly in a very difficult phase of our national struggle with Covid-19. I am truly sorry to have to write to you about further reductions to normal college provision at such short notice. We are well prepared to provide lessons of a high quality remotely, and I am confident that the impact on students' learning will be minimal. As we have done for so long now, our college community will get through these challenges together.

I will write again with further details in the new year and would like to wish you all a very happy Christmas and New Year.

Yours faithfully

Simon Warburton
