Dear Parents and Carers,

Invitation to Jagex Video Game Careers Workshop – 2nd March

We are thrilled to announce that Ely College will be hosting an exclusive games workshop for Year 8 and Year 9 students on 2nd March for to up to 60 students.

In celebration of National Careers Week, we are collaborating with Jagex, the renowned Cambridge-based studio behind RuneScape.

This session is part of their RuneScape 25 Future Talent Pathway, a flagship initiative marking the franchise's 25th anniversary. These workshops are provided completely free of cost to the school and our students.

What the 60-Minute Session Includes:

- Expert Insights: One or two industry professionals will share their personal career journeys and host a Q&A session.
- Interactive Exercises: Hands-on activities designed to practice the fundamentals of game design.
- Student Workbooks: Each attendee receives a printed workbook containing reference materials and follow-up exercises.

Prizes and Opportunities

Students who complete the workshop exercises can submit their work for a chance to be showcased by Jagex with additional prizes available. Furthermore, the program is designed by Into Games to mirror the BAFTA Young Game

Designers' competition. This means students who complete the take-home materials will have the foundation ready to enter their work into this prestigious national competition. (<https://intogames.org/news/into-games-is-proud-to-announce-that-it-is-working>)

This is a fantastic opportunity for students to learn about the diverse career paths within the UK's thriving games industry directly from local experts.

Please contact Mrs Lambo-Hills by Mon 23rd Feb if you have any questions regarding your child's participation. Otherwise, please use the QR code below.
